Very Simple game, but also quite fun.

Lots of Levels to play through with higher and higher difficulty, altho to be honest, the difficulty is remembering the levels mostly.

Many unlockable little things, which i always enjoy(as long as it is ingame currency which it is, thank god)

The MUSIC, oh the music is fantastic, some of the music is good, some of it is FANTASTIC.

Do get this if you want a simple game to burn time, or to grind out the achievements which i am sure can be really fun.

. played it a bit. it's ok.. I want to die. I've been playing a pirated copy of this game on my phone around 2015 to 2017, and I loved it

I've beaten Stereo Madness to Electroman Adventures around 3 times because of that, and that helped develop a lot more of patience-based skills, and allowed me to meet great songs from indie musicians from Newgrounds too.

Seriously, play it, it's worth your time. It's really good when you are bored and also for the hardcore gamers. It's a win-win like come on.. This game is awesome!!!!!! It's makes you rage, but it is soooooo addicting. Only problem is that this game does not update frequently. 2.1 came out like 2 years ago rob. WHAT ARE YA WAITING FOR!? GO PLAY THIS GAME!!!. I have a big history with this game. I first bought it on Mobile in April of 2015, and then eventually bought this in July the same year. I spent mostly spent 2015 trying to beat the main levels and then beat Deadlocked in early 2016. I then played online levels and beat some difficult levels. As of May 14th 2019, I have beaten 106 demons. I don't play it as much as I used to, but, the amount of hours that I have in this game shows how big my history of it is.. Geometry Dash, a platform game inspired by the Impossible Game. It has better visuals, an online community and decent graphics for what it is though they are relatively bad. There is a level editor that allows you to post online levels, the editor can take a while to learn but creating is simple. Most of the game is built around the online community as there are only 21 official levels at the moment. One thing to point out is that you can be very creative with the level editor, it has tons of combinations. GD Flaaroni made a video on how many possible level combinations there are in geometry dash, there are more than trillions of combinations which makes me think that the level editor is pretty unlimited. The game is very badly optimised it lags out on some levels for some reason and my computer doesn't lag on higher quality games. Unfortunately, the community is pretty bad like most other communities. Also if you are someone who cares about the online game then just note that your level will most likely not get featured because the creator of the game features generic trash by famous creators, so most levels are bland and unoriginal kind of like pop music (opinion no hate). Also the creator won't work on the game tbh I hope he sells it to another company because he said 2.2 would come out almost 3 years ago and it never has. The game is pretty good but it is not well maintained and frequently crashes but whatever I guess I'll just deal with that anyways I rate it like almost 4/5.
